STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

DEATH OF MR. JORDAN,-Mr. ROBERT JORDAN Sr., whose accident was noticed in yesterday's issue, died from his injuries about 2 P. M., yesterday.

RECONSTRUCTION .- On our first page this morn ing will be found the opinion of Attorney-General STANBURY on the Reconstruction Acts. It is an important document, and ought to be read by BATHING NOTICE.—It will be seen from the advertisement that a liberal deduction has been made in the price of bathing tickets, which places them in the reach of families and others who are the regular habitues of the house. The popularity of "the Bathing House under its present ma is well known, and this recent action will tend to increase the patronage bestowed upon it.

HILLSBORO' MILITARY SCHOOL. -We take pleasure n referring to the advertisement of this sterling academy in another column. The second session of the school commenced on the 1st o July, and a rare opportunity is offered to students who may desire to connect themselves with the institution The Hillsboro' Academy is an offshoot of our own Citadel, having been founded by the late amented Col. C. C. TEW, whose widow, we learn, still the proprietress of the establishment.

REGISTRAR IN BANKRUPTOY .- The Cincinnati Commercial says:

"We learn that Colonel R. B. Carpenter, of Corington, Ky., who was appointed District Judge of one of the territories a few weeks ago, has declined that office and accepted the appointment of Begistrar in Bankruptoy for the Charleston (South Carolina) District." South Carolina) District." this appointment, but Col. CARPENTER was in this city a few weeks since, and we have every reason to consider the statement correct.

CHE SINGULAR OCCURRENCE, THE BODY OF A CHILD FOUND IN A FIRE WELL.—The workmen employed in cleaning the fire well at the corner of Charlotte and Alexander streets were surprised at finding a coffin, containing the remains of a child, in the well. From appearances, it had evidently been in that condition for some time, as the remains were too far decomposed to be recognized. The coffin was of mahogany, and was securely bound with a .s.c. rope, to which several bricks had been attached. Coroner Whiting was promptly notified, and a jury being summoned, they returned a verdict of death from causes unknown.

A CREAK PURY.—Perhaps the best antidote to the heat of the summer is the cooling sound of Ice Oream, which is now the most popular of all street ories, and the Ice Cream merchants receive a large the "Notice" of the Board of Trustees of the portion of the public patronage. There are few Medical College of the State of South Carolina, persons who are not familiar with the sound of I scream, which is fearfully true when uttered by a shrill female voice, and the cooling panaces is barely adequate to tranquillize the excited nerves. It has long been the study of the trade to present to the public that he is again prepared to cater to their tastes, and his wagon and bells will be daily heard in every part of the city. This is welcome news to the community, who have been accustomed to consider Lercombe a good Samaritan. The merry tinkle of his bells will prove acceptable music to our ears, and will reconcile us in some measure to our late Walrussian purchase as an indispensable necessity.

NORTHWARD, Ho!-In the present hot season when everybody who can is trying to get away, and when steam with its multifarious appliances has rendered ravelling both cheap and easy, and within the reach of almost everybody, it becomes a matter of some importance to decide what route to choose? Better and wore reliable than any guide book is the experience of other travellers who "have gone before." It has long been a set tled principle (if we can call that a principle which in its very nature betrays a want of principle) that travellers are fair game. But as the said travellers do not generally appreciate such attention, it be comes a matter of some importance to avoid sharks and harpies along the route, and this they can usually accomplish by keeping an eye upon their own interests, and watching the "servants of

We can go North either by land or water. If, like the doctors, we are accustomed to sea sickness, and conclude to entrust ourselves to the toilers of the sea, we have still a choice of three lines, all offering ample accommodations. If, on the other hand, we prefer terra firma, there is an equal, if not greater choice of routes. There is this, however, to be said in connection with the last-named alternative; that the expense is much greater; that there is considerable delay all along the route; that "connections" are as often missed as made; that extras for "sleeping cars," hotel hills, and other contingents, sometimes swell the amount expended to nearly double the price paid for the "through ticket." Taking, therefore, all these things into consideration, our advice to our friends and readers is to go down to the sea in ships, rather than ride on the rail.

THE FASHIONS FOR JUNE.—These are so strange startling and striking, that we have been tempted to devote a few lines to the subject, and to hold the mirror up to nature, or in other words, to give the fair sex an opportunity of seeing themselves as others see them.

Having never been any further in a millinery shop than the outside, and knowing but little of the paraphernalia necessary to create a first-class belle, our criticisms will be somewhat original, as our opinions are formed only from a casual obser-vation of the ladies' magazines, and of the angels themselves. King street is decidedly the best point for a critic to visit, and a glance at the sweet faces seen on that promenade would make the most inveterate bachelor sigh over his wretched lot, and he would forget milliners' bills and similar

To describe the fair creatures is a difficult task. as they wield a magician's wand and can make themselves appear attractive in spite of the fashion. The imperious Queen, whose headquarters are supposed to be at Paris, is despotic in her sway and changeable in her whims, rushing often from one extreme to another. Crinoline has now received its death blow, and in the place of full skirts that once kept the beaux within hailing distance, we now see churn-like forms, the latest fashion being an approach to the style worn by our foremothers.

The walking dresses are decidedly unique, and are only sensible in one respect, that there is a small saving in the cloth. They are ugly imitations of a Swiss peasant's dress, and afford an abundant opportunity for the display-of pretty gaiters. But these are designed only for the street the full evening dress being precisely the reverse and having a trail extending from three to five feet from the point where the dress touches the gound, which proves very effectual in keeping ad-nirers at a distance. The bonnet has degenerated so much in size, and the hair has risen in such abundance around it, that to obtain a full view of the curiosity it is necessary to be above it, or it is invisible. Of all the freaks of fashion, the wildest has been the invention of the modern bonnet, which bears no resemblance to those worn but a few years back. They are of all shapes, from a soup plate and door mat to a side saddle, and are, notwithstanding their diminutive size, the dearest things we ever saw. The latest thing in this line is styled the "mermaid's joy," and consists of a straw concern of the size and shape of a good oyster shell, allowing a waterfall almost as high as Niagara to fal from behind, while little cascades wend their way ab ut the ears and neck in delightful confusion.

It would be a herculean effort to continue the subject, as the powers of rhetoric would be exhaust-street or the Battery, and they will find abundant

4 good for reflection.

THE ILLUSIONIST .- Prof. H. J. SARGENT'S PER formance was attended last night by an audie select though few," who were highly entertaine by the clever tricks of legerdemain, at which Mr. S. appears quite an adept. We have had the pleasure of seeing some of the great masters of the black art-Prof. Anderson, Signor BLITZ, and HERR ALEXANDER, but there is no comparison whatever between them and Prof. SARGENT. All our friends who wish to attend a Soiree Magique should go to the Hibernian Hall to-night.

MAYOR'S COURT-May 27 .- A colored wonth who loved liquor not wisely but too well, took an overdose and seriously impaired his navigating powers, He was taken in charge by the police, and fined $3 by the Mayor. Richard Brown, who was so only in name as rejoiced in a jet black skin, was found in front of the Guard House, having mistaken the building for a vessel, and thought the pillars were maste In order to keep up the delusion he was consigned to the hold, and $3 worth of ballast removed from his pocket.

mence of clouds on his brain, endeavored to reeve himself by an eye-opener, but found the effort futile and ran aground near a lamp-post. He was discovered and taken care of by the police, who, with their characteristic liberality, made him pay for the trouble. Two parties, residents of the Upper Wards, were charged with attempting to serve both God and mammon by selling liquor on the Sabbath. This was forbidden in the decalogue, and they paid the penalty due to the offended law. A number of persons were remanded for examination. Among them a colored youth who had the singularly euphonious name of "Poor Boy Happy." On enquiry, we learned that he came from Ashango land, was related to the royal family, and had been captured for stealing pumps.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-Hon. THOS. W GLOVER presiding .- The case of McDenmor vs. DALLAS, for Breach of Contract, which had been ssigned for this day, was taken up; Messrs LINING and DURYEA for the plaintiff, and Messrs. PHILLIPS and SEYMOUR for the defendant. A jury was organized, and the trial consumed the entire day, the jury not returning till a late hour.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.-Hon. GEO. S. BEYAN Presiding. The Court met at the usual hour, but adjourned to two P. M., when the case of the United States vs. JASPER GRIFFIN for passing and uttering United States Treasury notes and fractional currency, was taken up. H. G. Young, Esq., appeared for the defence. A number of challenges were made and the jury being formed, the witnesses were examined with the exception of one for the defence, who did not appear, and on notion of Mr. Young, the further consideration of the case was postponed to nine and a half a, m. to-day. The case of B. MoBRIDE for the same of fence will be heard at 11 a. m.

In admiralty, DANIEL J. STURGES vs. the steam em Morgan and Charleston-Libel for supplie furnished. &c.

A. GETTY & Co. vs. G. D. LUNT and R. J. GETTY, Libel.

On motion of BREWSTER and SPRATT it was order ed that the steamer be sold, and the proceeds after payment of costs be held by the Marshal, subject to the further order of the court. It was further ordered that the said sales be on the following terms: One-third cash and balance on personal security with, mortgage of vessel, or such other terms as shall be approved by the counsel on the cause. This with the consent of POBTER & CONNER contra.

In the above cases the pleas to the jurisdiction were overaled, and respondent ousier ordered.

In our advertising columns of this day will be found who inform the professional public, through this medium, that on Monday, the 24th June, they will proceed to elect a Professor of Physiology and a Professor of Obstetrics to fill vacancies occ by the resignation of Professors JAMES MOULTRIE their wares to the public without this shock to and T. G. PRIOLEAU from the said institution. We their nervous system, but few have succeeded. regret to see these time-honored names, associated Foremost among them, however, stands the in our minds with the very founding of the above hame of Henry Larcombe, who now an institution, erased from the list of Professors. They have be public, and to their untiring industry and perseverance the College is indebted for the high stand it has taken among the institutions of learning in the United States. Among the earliest founded, it has passed through a long series of successful struggles, and now is acknowledged as second to none in the high tone of its faculty, in its associated array of talent, and in its usefulness. Up to the commencement of the war its classes averaged annually considerably over two hundred students; and as the Diploma of the College is highly valued throughout the South and West, this institution has always had an unusually large per centage of advanced students applying for graduation. It is to these retiring genlemen that much of this success is due, and they may justly look with pride upon their creation Having accomplished a good work, they have now determined to leave the institution to younger and more active hands, to carry on what they have so ably established.

Against the imitations and counterfeits of HOSTET-TER'S STOMACH BITTERS, with which the PRATES who make a DISHONOBABLE LIVING, by preying upon the sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the markets of this country. Whenever these Poison-Mongani are discovered they are immediately prosecuted by the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in tracing them out and bringing them to justice. Within s'short time injunctions have been obtained in the Courts of the United States against a number of individuals and firms, and suits are now in progress against several others, all of whose names will be given to the ublic. But in spite of the utmost vigilance and activity of their detective agenta, the undersigned are of course anable to protect the public entirely against piratical mitations of a Standard National Tonic, everywhere in request, and as readily convertible into cash as United States Bonds or Treasury Notes. They therefore, as a measure of precaution, direct attention to the fact that a finely engraved label, representing St. George and the Dragon, and a beautiful proprietary stamp, be ring the official endorsement of the Government, appear on every bottle of the genuine BITTERS. The article is further authenticated by a miniature note of hand, with the sigature of "Hostetter & Smith." to counterfeit which i a State preson crime.
